Florence, March 7, N. S. By Advices from Nettuno, four thousand Neapolitan Horse were ready, and on the Point of marching marching to Foligno, where they were to receive Orders what Route they were to take. General Braitwitz, who lately entered into the Service of the Court of Naples, has lately had a Permiſſion to raiſe a Regiment of the Deſerters from the Auſtrian Army, which is to conſiſt of three Battalions, and was by the laſt Accounts more than half compleat. M. Braitwitz is to command this Regiment, which is always to bear his Name. The Court has allowed him many Advantages, and particularly a Liberty to nominate all the ſubaltern Officers, beſides having made his Son Lieutenant Colonel thereof.

Berlin, March 25. The King of Pruſſia arrived To-day from Potzdam, accompanied by the Princes his Brothers. His Majeſty has been indiſpoſed with a Tertian Ague. Her Majeſty the Queen Mother has likewiſe been indiſpoſed with a Rheumatiſm. The Project of making navigable the Harbour which lies on the Mouth of the Oder near Stettin, called Swine, is renewed; and his Pruſſian Majeſty being reſolved to grant conſiderable Advantages to thoſe who will ſend their Commodities by Water, to the Pruſſian anterior Pomerania, the Chamber of War and Domains here has publiſhed, that from the 1ſt Inſtant, the Sixth Part of the Duty laid upon any Sort of Merchandizes, Wares or Proviſions whatever, ſhall be remitted to the Ships which come that Way, and that they ſhall enjoy it without the leaſt Deduction.

Hambourg, March 28. The Hambourghers have again loſt Three Ships, which are fallen into the Hands of the Algerines; and the Convoy, which was ſent out for their Protection, is now at Cadiz, waiting itſelf for a Malteſe Convoy to venture Homewards.

Hague, March 31, N. S. Some Letters from Paris of the 23d ſay, that they had an Account from Spain, that ſome Engliſh Ships of War had taken and carried to Lisbon three Spaniſh Regiſter Ships, viz. the Nymph, the Fort and the Auguſta, two being outward and one homeward bound. Several of the Martinicomen were ſtill miſſing; they had Accounts of ſeven or eight being got into the Groyne; ſix were given over for loſt. M. de Saxe was expected at Bruſſels laſt Night, without waiting at Paris for the Arrival of M. de Belleiſle, who is drinking the Mineral Waters of Vals in Provence. The firſt Succours from Toulon and Marſeiles ſailed the 17th Inſtant for Genoa, after having been embarked ever ſince the 6th. Every thing was getting ready in the conquer'd Netherlands for the opening the Campaign, and immediately after Marſhal Saxe's Arrival at Mechlin, a Council of General Officers is to be held. It was ſaid at Paris that the French King's Equipage would be ready to ſet out by the 15th of April. We have no other Particulars of the French Expedition in the Marquiſate of Bergen, but that the Party conſiſted of the Piquets of Horſe and Irregulars of the Garriſons of Bruſſels and Louvain, commanded by M. de Clermont Gallerande, and that a great deal of Plunder was ſold publickly on Monday Morning at Antwerp.
